4. HOUSING ELEMENT

PURPOSE

During the past two decades, Pleasanton has experienced a diverse pattern of growth including substantial new residential, commercial, office, and industrial development. As a small suburban city, Pleasanton has developed a reputation as a desirable place in which to live and work, with an excellent school system, fine parks and recreational facilities, a traditional downtown area, and a low crime rate.

The Promenade Apartments located near Downtown

As in other Bay Area communities, providing housing, especially affordable housing, has become a major issue in Pleasanton. The shortage of affordable housing particularly affects lower-income renters and first-time homebuyers, including those residents who have grown up in Pleasanton and would like to establish their own households here. The City has always tried to grow in a balanced manner, providing a variety of land uses, jobs as well as residences, and sufficient public facilities, services, and infrastructure to accommodate its residents and workers. The City has also been active in promoting housing affordability through its support of non-profit providers, creation of housing programs, and participation in and approval of subsidized residential developments. Pleasanton's challenge over the next five years is to continue providing housing affordable to all segments of the community, to preserve the quality of the housing stock, to maintain a balance between employment and housing, and to continue to grow at a rate which allows its public facilities, services, and infrastructure to accommodate its residents, workers, and visitors to the community.

The Housing Element proposes solutions to the housing needs and problems facing the community — while at the same time ensuring that new housing will “fit-in” with Pleasanton's character and appearance, its sense of community, its environmental qualities and resources, and its historic heritage. Overall, the City is committed to working with other agencies and non-profit organizations to maximize affordable housing opportunities, and to ensure a fit of new housing with Pleasanton's long-standing commitment to maintain and enhance the high quality of its residential neighborhoods, commercial areas and its Downtown.

All California cities and counties are required to have a Housing Element included in their General Plan which establishes housing objectives, policies and programs in response to community housing conditions and needs. The Housing Element is a comprehensive statement by the community of its current and future housing needs and proposed actions to facilitate the provision of housing to meet those needs at all income levels. The policies contained in this Housing Element are an expression of the statewide housing goal of "attaining decent housing and a suitable living environment for every California family," as well as a reflection of the unique concerns of the community.

This Housing Element focuses on the 2007-2014 planning period, consistent with the City's Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) and State law requirements. It builds upon the goals, policies and implementing programs contained in the City's 2003 Housing Element, and contains an updated analysis of existing and projected housing needs, identification of sites for future housing development, in particular, high density housing, a review of potential constraints to housing, identification of adequate sites for all types of housing, and updated policies and implementing programs and objectives to address the existing and projected needs of all economic segments of the community. For detailed information regarding population trends, housing conditions, housing affordability and future housing needs and opportunities, see the Housing Background Report (separate document).

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

In October 2010, the City Council appointed an 11-member Housing Element Update Task Force comprised of two Council members, two Planning Commissioners, two Housing Commissioners, and five at-large members. The Task force met monthly beginning in November 2010. Each Task Force meeting was open to the public for public comments, and materials for the Housing Element update were posted on the City's website.

In addition to Task Force meetings, the process included outreach to housing experts and representatives of organizations providing services and affordable housing to special needs groups in Pleasanton. Separate meetings were held with non-profit housing developers, housing service providers, and for-profit housing developers to obtain ideas and recommendations for the City's Housing Element. The Task Force and City staff also hosted four community workshops to get comments on identifying potential sites for housing and to obtain other ideas for the Housing Element Update.

Workshops conducted for the Housing Element

Extensive outreach for the Housing Element update has been done to all economic segments of the community. The Pleasanton community was provided advanced information about the community workshops in a variety of ways: the City mailed over 7,000 flyers to owners and occupants of property within 1,000 feet of each potential site for rezoning; a front page article on the Housing Element with information about the workshops was included in "Pleasanton Today," which is delivered inside the Pleasanton Weekly to about 14,500 Pleasanton households; the Pleasanton Weekly and The Valley Times of March 4, 2011 also included information about the workshops; and, information about the workshops was posted on the City's website.

Based on the sign-in sheets, approximately 260 people attended the three workshops. Summaries of all Task Force meetings, the housing expert meetings, and the community workshops were prepared and were made available on the City's website during the review process.. In addition, review and direction was provided at publicly noticed meetings conducted by the City's Housing Commission, Planning Commission and City Council. As described in the Housing Background Report, prior to the adoption of the 2007-2014 Housing Element, the City completed the rezoning and General Plan Amendments necessary to accommodate the City's share of the regional housing need.

CONSISTENCY WITH OTHER GENERAL PLAN ELEMENTS

Policies and programs established throughout the General Plan affect housing development in Pleasanton. The 2003 Housing Element contained several policies and programs which were later incorporated in part or full in the 2009 General Plan in other General Plan Elements. Policies and programs in the 2003 Housing Element which were the same or substantially similar to policies and programs in the 2009 General Plan have been removed from the 2007-2014 Housing Element. To provide for consistency, a program has also been added to the 2007-2014 Housing Element stating the following:

- Implement the applicable housing related air quality, climate change, green building, water conservation, energy conservation, and community character programs of the Pleasanton General Plan, including: Policy 6 and programs 6.1 and 6.3 of the Air Quality and Climate Change Element; Programs 1.5, 1.7, 1.8, 1.12, 1.13, 1.14, and 3.12 of the Water Element; Program 9.1 of the Community Character Element; and, Policies 2,3, 4, 6 and 7 and programs 2.1-2.7, 3.1-3.5, 4.1-4.3, 6.1-6.4, 7.1-7.3, and 7.6 of the Energy Element.

All General Plan amendments needed to accommodate the City's full regional housing needs allocation (RHNA) for the fourth Housing Element revision planning period, as assigned to the City by the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) in or about May 2008, either occurred prior to or concurrently with the adoption of this Housing Element update.

QUANTIFIED HOUSING OBJECTIVES

State law requires the Housing Element to include quantified objectives for the maximum number of units that can be constructed, rehabilitated or conserved. Policies and programs establish the strategies to achieve these objectives. The City's quantified objectives are described under each program, and represent the City's best effort in implementing each of the programs. Assumptions are based on past program performance and funding availability, construction trends, land availability, and future programs that will enhance program effectiveness and achieve full implementation of the City's housing goals.

The new construction objectives shown in the table are based on the City's RHNA for the 2007-2014 planning period for very-low, low- and moderate-income housing, historic trends, and expectations for new second units. Rehabilitation and conservation objectives are based on specific program targets, including such programs as use of Section 8 rental housing vouchers.

The table below summarizes the City's quantified objectives for housing during the 2007-2014 planning period.

Income Category	Programs for NEW CONSTRUCTION (Programs 6.1, 9.4, 11.5, 13.5, 16.1, 38.1)	Programs for REHABILITATION (Programs 9.3, 11.2, 34.2)	Programs for CONSERVATION (Programs 8.1, 9.2, 9.6, 13.1, 13.9, 17.4, 34.2)
Extremely Low Income	50	5	5
Very Low Income	931	40	45
Low Income	1,554	45	--
Moderate Income	720	--	--
Above Moderate Income	753	--	--
Total	4,008	90	50

HOUSING GOALS, POLICIES AND PROGRAMS

The Housing Element's intent with respect to housing needs in Pleasanton is expressed in two ways. The first is in the form of a goals and objectives sought by the community. A goal is the ideal we strive for — or the desired state of things. State law requires that the City's housing objectives establish the maximum number of housing units that can be constructed, rehabilitated or conserved between the years 2007 and 2014.

The second, and more specific aspects of the Housing Element, are policy statements and implementation programs. These describe the way citizens, local government, and other involved agencies or organizations can achieve objectives, and move closer to the City's goals. Policies establish a recognized community position on a particular subject. Programs are more detailed actions that the City, or other specific entities, will implement to ensure the attainment of the Housing Element's goal and objectives.

The following goals, policies, and programs will guide the City over the 2007-2014 Housing Element planning period. By identifying the responsible agency, time period, objective, and funding source, the following programs constitute the required quantifiable objectives for the Housing Element. The intent of the Housing Element is to address the housing needs of all income levels. In particular, the housing needs of extremely low, very low, and low-income households are explicitly mentioned because special emphasis on these income groups is needed. Programs relying on the City's Lower Income Housing Fund are intended to specifically address the needs of extremely low income, very low income and low income households.

In some cases programs implement several goals and policies; therefore programs apply to all goals and policies within the applicable section.

GOALS, POLICIES, AND PROGRAMS

Housing Variety, Type, and Density

Goal 1: Attain a variety of housing sizes, types, densities, designs, and prices which meet the existing and projected needs of all economic segments of the community.

Goal 2: Provide residential densities capable of accommodating housing affordable to extremely low-, low- and very-low-income households while taking into account the character and development pattern of the surrounding area.

Policy 1: At a minimum, maintain the amount of high-density residential acreage currently designated on the General Plan Map and permitting high density housing..

Program 1.1: Discourage the redesignation of areas designated for High Density Residential development. The objective of this program is to ensure that adequate sites are available to accommodate the City's regional housing need for all income levels.

Responsible Agency: City Council

Time Period: On-going

Funding Source: Not Applicable

Policy 2: Permit mobile homes and factory-built housing on appropriately located sites.

Policy 3: Encourage developments on sites designated for multiple-family residential uses which are adjacent to commercial districts to be designed at the maximum height allowed for multiple-family residential zoning districts, consistent with neighborhood character; however in the Downtown, multiple-family residential building height should be consistent with the design policies of the Downtown Specific Plan and the Downtown Design Guidelines.

Policy 4: Give favorable consideration for approval for proposed developments which provide extremely low-, very-low- and low-income units that meet the requirements of the Inclusionary Zoning Ordinance, as long as all other City development standards are met.

Policy 5: Apply for Federal and State grants offered for mixed-use development near transit centers.

Policy 6: Actively promote the creation of second units on single-family residential lots and their maintenance as sources of housing affordable to moderate-, low-, and very-low-income households.

Time Period: Complete next survey by December 2013

Funding Source: Housing Division, Planning Division Budgets

Program 6.2: Create incentives for homeowners to rent their second units to moderate-, low-, and very-low-income households. The City's role would be to develop the program materials including information, criteria for qualifications, and incentives, and to monitor the success of the program. Incentives should include fee reductions or waivers and information/assistance to help homeowners be landlords. Such incentives should be made available to applicants of second units during the Administrative Design Review or Building permit process.

Responsible Agency: Housing Division, Housing Commission, Planning Division, Building Division, Planning Commission

Time Period: Initiate by end of 2012

Quantified Objective: Five units per year.

Funding Source: Housing Division, Planning Division, Building Division Budgets

Program 6.3: Consider allowing second units without an Administrative Design Review process in new single-family developments, subject to performance standards, and consider reducing the existing Second Unit Ordinance requirements, such as the parking and height limit requirements, to encourage the development of second units, and consider other measures to promote the creation of second units.

Potential sources may include the HUD Section 202 and 811 programs (for senior housing and housing for persons with disabilities), the State HELP and CHFA programs, State/Federal lower-income housing tax credits, and bond financing. The timing of application will depend upon the schedule for specific projects proposed by individual developers in as much as the City does not currently own any land for development of housing affordable to low- and very-low-income households. If the City is successful in securing an open source of funding for housing affordable to low- and very-low-income households, such as State HELP funds, the availability of these funds will be promoted through the City's web site, in local newspapers, and through posting at public places subject to normal procedures. The objective of this program is to secure available funding required to finance new affordable housing development. A timeline would be developed on a project by project basis as affordable development inquiries/applications are submitted to the City.

Responsible Agency: Housing Division

A priority will be placed on projects that provide the largest number of units at the greatest level of affordability. The availability of incentives is incorporated in the City's Inclusionary Zoning Ordinance, but for specific projects, will also be promoted through the City's web site, in local newspapers, and through posting at public places subject to normal procedures. Single-family homes will be identified through the City's Housing Rehabilitation Program which already has in place an outreach program. Policy 16: Ensure compliance with the Inclusionary Zoning Ordinance by requiring each for-sale residential and non-residential development to which the Ordinance applies to include its pro-rata share of housing needs for low- and very-low-income households or, if the Ordinance criteria are met, to contribute to the lower-income housing fund to facilitate the construction of housing affordable to extremely low, low-, very-low, and moderate-income households. Review and modify policies for rental housing to conform with the Costa Hawkins Act. It is strongly encouraged that the Inclusionary Zoning Ordinance requirements be met by building housing affordable to extremely- low, low- and very-low-income households.

Program 16.1: Monitor the results of the Inclusionary Zoning Ordinance annually to determine if developers are primarily building new housing units affordable to low- and very-low-income households instead of paying in-lieu fees for new developments. If it is determined by the City Council, upon recommendation by the Housing Commission, that the Inclusionary Zoning Ordinance is not producing sufficient housing affordable to low- and very-low-income households, consider modifying the Ordinance so that it can better achieve that objective. As part of the inclusionary ordinance review, conduct meetings with developers to identify specific changes that may be considered by the City.

- to be consistent with recent court decisions regarding rental housing;
- as a potential constraint to housing

Responsible Agency: Housing Division, Housing Commission, City Council

Time Period: Annually/on-going.

Funding Source: Housing Division Budget

Policy 17: Use the lower-income-housing fee to generate funds for the provision of housing affordable to extremely low-, low- and very-low-income households. The low-income housing fund should be used primarily to leverage State and Federal funds in the development of housing affordable to low- and very-low-income households and in-house loan programs, so that the fund may be used most efficiently and maintained over time. When considering allocation of these funds, priority will be given to non-profit housing developers with a project including three bedroom units affordable to large extremely low-, low- and very-low-income households.

Program 17.1: Review and modify the lower-income-housing fee annually in conformance with AB 1600, and consider changing the basis of the fee to reflect the true cost of providing housing.

Program 17.4: Use the Lower-Income Housing Fund to extend rent restriction agreements, purchase land, write down mortgage costs, rehabilitate units, subsidize rents, issue tax-exempt bonds, post loan collateral, pay pre-development costs, and otherwise help produce housing units affordable to lower-income households. The objective of this is to utilize the Lower Income Housing Fund in a manner consistent with City ordinance and to support affordable housing, particularly developments proposed by non-profit developers that include units for large families at very low incomes.

Responsible Agency: City Council

Time Period: As Needed/On-going

Quantified Objective: 150 units

Funding Source: Lower-Income Housing Fund

Program 17.5: When considering how to utilize the City's Lower-Income Housing Fund, consider whether a proposal with a non-profit housing developer and a for-profit housing developer partnership should be a higher priority project due to its ability to potentially secure better funding and be developed.

Responsible Agency: Housing Division, Housing Commission, City Council
